

XM Satellite offers more choices than ever and is a great alternative to radio. I purchased XM after getting tired of the same old talk radio in the mornings. XM allows you to travel from one part of the the country to another without looking for new radio stations to get weather and traffic. Satellite radio should have the freedom to provide whatever programing it wants, just like the internet. Thanks for yyour time. Jeff Pennington